MEA-SAT switchover could pose another busing challenge

By ALISON ALOISIO

SAD44 officials are pondering how to get 95 percent of Telstar's junior class to Rumford on a Saturday. The reason: Maine plans to substitute the college SAT test for the current Maine Educational Assessment test for 11th-graders.

The Department of Education is proposing to use the SATs (Scholastic Aptitude Test) to assess academic progress and, the department hopes, to encourage students to apply to college.

But Telstar High School is currently not a site where the College Board administers the test.

If that is the case next April, SAD44 may have to bus the students to Mountain Valley High School, where the test is given.

And in order to meet the standards of testing required by the federal No Child Left Behind Act, 95 percent of the class has to show up. There are currently 68 class members.

District's latest MEA results are mixed

By ALISON ALOISIO

In the last school year's round of MEA testing, Telstar Middle and Andover Elementary school students performed at or above the state average in all four areas tested.

For other SAD44 schools, the results were a mixed bag.

Last year's TMS eighth-graders were slightly above the state average scores in reading and science/technology. They equaled the state in math and writing.

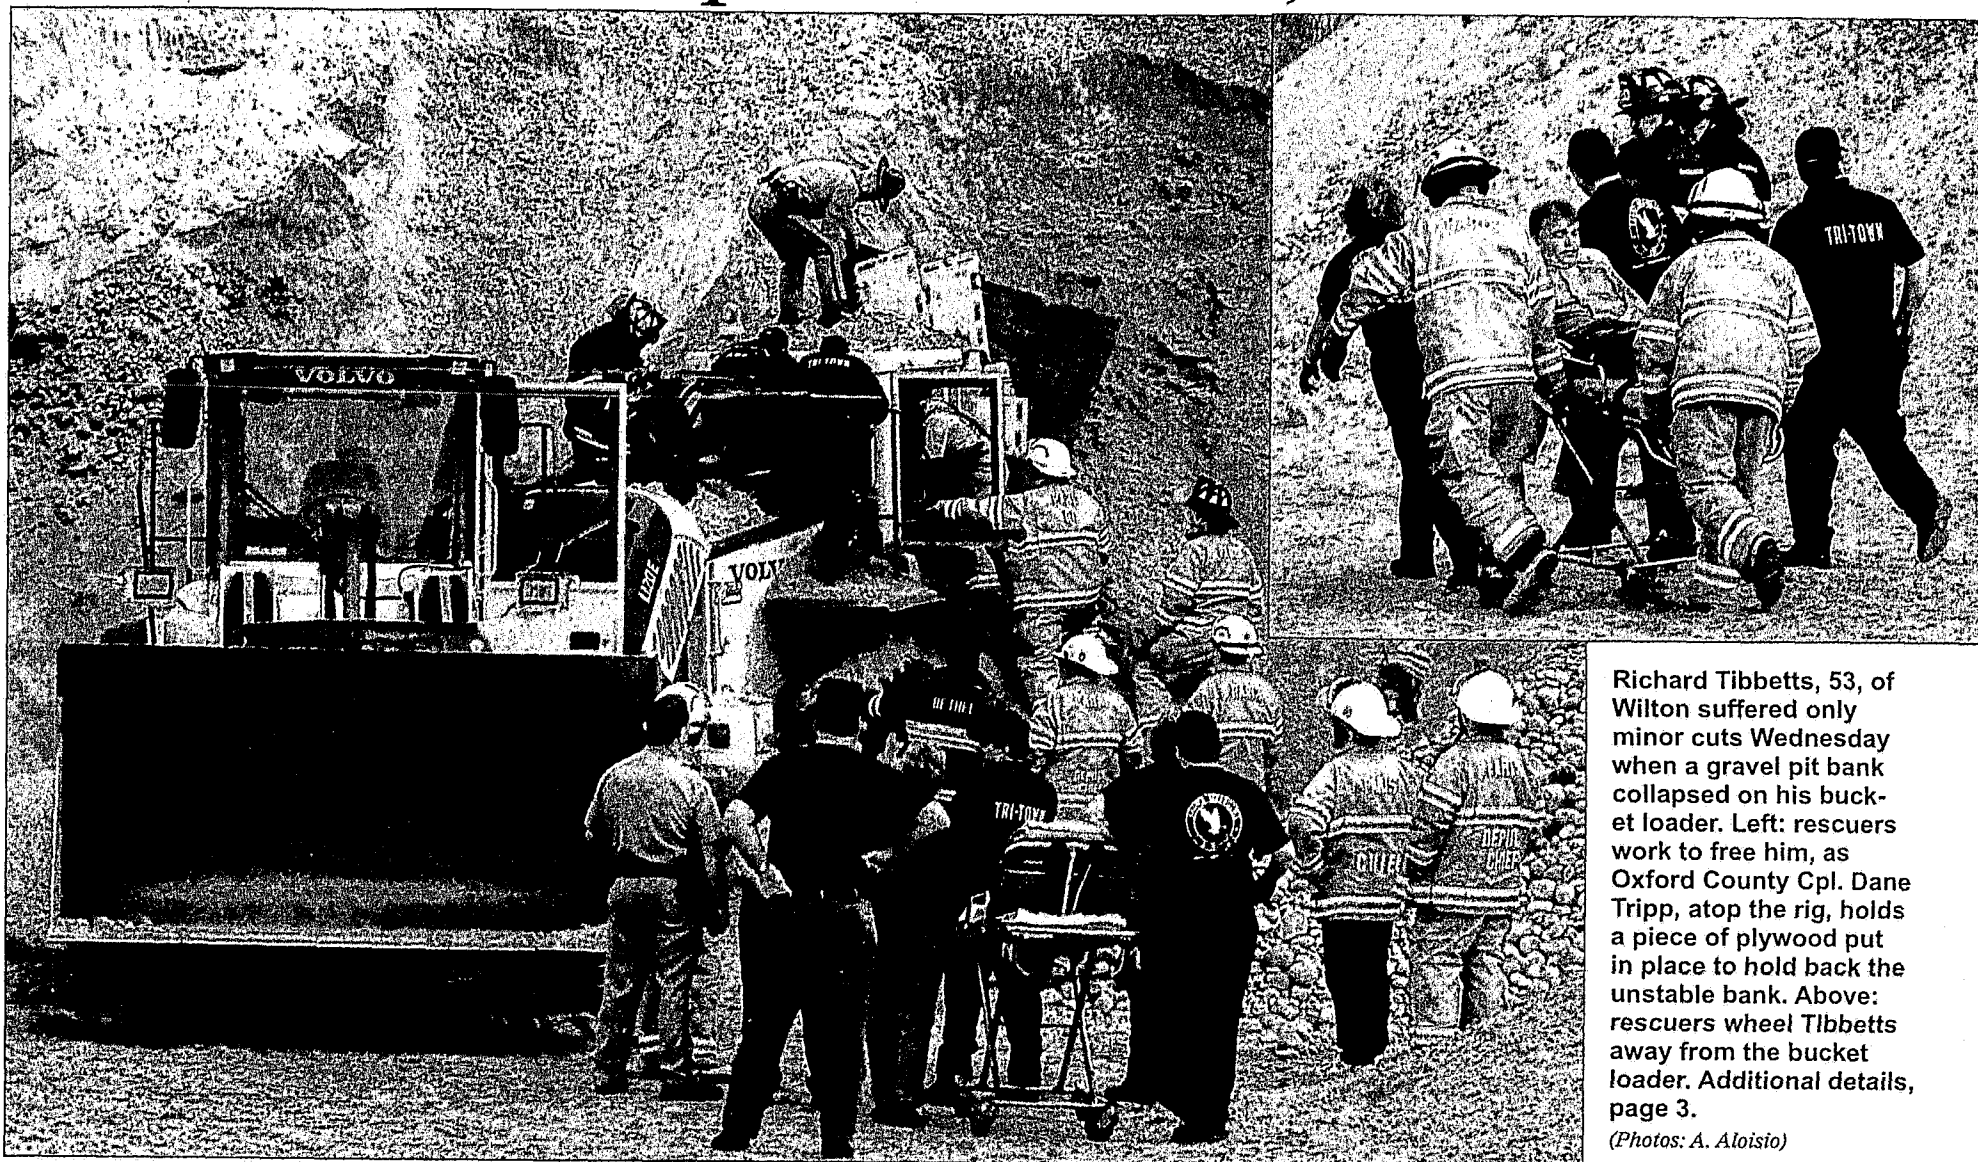

And they improved in all categories over the previous year's class.

AES fourth-graders averaged 544 points on the math test, seven points above the state average of 537. They were slightly above the state average in science/technology, and equaled the state in writing and reading.

But although the scores were at or above state average, they were down in all categories

Gravel pit extrication, rescue

Richard Tibbetts, 53, of Wilton suffered only minor cuts Wednesday when a gravel pit bank collapsed on his bucket loader. Left: rescuers work to free him, as Oxford County Cpl. Dane Tripp, atop the rig, holds a piece of plywood put in place to hold back the unstable bank. Above: rescuers wheel Tibbetts away from the bucket loader. Additional details, page 3.

Board drafts ordinance covering use of recreation bridge and trails

By MICHAEL DANIELS

With the Bethel recreational trails effort due to pass a major milestone Saturday, town selectmen have been fine tuning an ordinance to specify just how town trails and bridges can be used.

A dedication ceremony is scheduled for 3 p.m. Saturday to celebrate the completion of the new recreational bridge across the Androscoggin River (more below).

And selectmen, at their regular meeting Monday, unanimously approved a draft of a new "Recreational Trails and Bridge Ordinance."

The draft represents the fourth, but perhaps not final, version of the ordinance.

It will be presented to voters at a public hearing Monday, Oct. 17.

Pedestrians, bicyclists, X-C skiers, skateboarders, rollerbladers and skaters etc. would be allowed, but not ATVs or horses.

Following the hearing, the selectmen will then vote on the ordinance, either as is, or with additional revisions reflecting public input received at the hearing.

Or, they might at that point still vote to table the matter.

Tabling, however, appears unlikely, since the document is needed not only from a practical legal perspective, but also to allow the Maine Department of Transportation to qualify for $500,000 in federal enhancement funds that went into the $1.4 million project.

Whatever the selectmen's decision, the new ordinance will not go to a Town Meeting vote — under Maine law local ordinances governing traffic and pedestrian movement must be approved by municipal officers, rather than the legislative body (Town Meeting).

Local culture put on the map

The first edition of a cultural map covering more than two dozen towns and villages in western Maine School Districts 17, 39, 44 and 72, is now available.

The map was prepared by the Western Oxford Foothills Cultural Council (WOF), which researched and designed it.

In addition to a driving map of the area, there are also four walking tours of the region's National Historic Districts: Bethel Hill, Paris Hill, Waterford Flat and Main Street, Norway.

Categories include museums, galleries, theatres, historic accommodations, craft outlets and antique shops.

For the first time, however, a cultural map also includes niche farms and historic mines as well as historical tidbits.

Toni Seger, founder of WOF expressed gratitude for the help she received collecting information for the map.

"It wouldn't have been possible without a lot of people generously donating their time and knowledge," she said.

"Jim Mann of Mountain Mann Jewelers gave me information about the history of mining in western Maine, Janice Davis of King's Hill Inn provided information about accommodations and antiques, Steve Catanese of Par-

Two-time cancer survivor hopes her hair will strengthen a little girl in her own battle

By ALISON ALOISIO

Hairdresser Holly Roberts has cut the locks of more than a dozen people who donated their hair to be made into wigs for chemotherapy patients.

But it was different on Monday, when Barbara Stevens of Bethel came in to the salon to donate 11 inches of her long hair to "Wigs for Kids."

That's because Stevens is herself a former chemo patient.

Since 1999, Stevens has been treated twice for breast cancer. The first time, the cancer was revealed in a regular mammogram. She had surgery (a bilateral mastectomy) followed by reconstructive surgery.

She thought that was the end of it. "The doctor said I was 99.9 percent cured," said Stevens.

But in 2001, a self-exam revealed that the cancer was still present in scar tissue, and had worked its way into two lymph nodes.

"Thinking that I had been cured, it was a blow," said Stevens. "But as soon as I got over that, it was easier (to deal with the diagnosis)," she said, because she had been through it before.

The diagnosis meant Stevens would have to have chemotherapy and radiation. She chose to undergo treatment at the Walt Disney Cancer Institute in Florida.

While there, she saw other patients of all ages. She said she was particularly impressed at the strength shown by the kids in treatment.

Stevens quickly started to lose her hair, and she had her husband, Dale, shave the rest of it off for her.

"Being bald didn't bother me," she said. "I just wore a baseball cap."

But she had a different sense about kids with cancer. "I think it's harder for kids to stand out than adults," she said.

So in April of 2002, after her treatments were over, Stevens made a decision. "I set a goal of growing my hair out to donate it to Wigs for Kids," she said. "I thought I'd like to

ON A HOT TIN ROOF—Bethel, Newry and Gilead firefighters successfully extinguished an electrical blaze Monday afternoon in a metal wood-drying shed at Bethel Furniture Stock. Firemen entered the building and quickly knocked the fire down with foam. Firefighters Jim Bennett (left) and Les Thurston also sprayed water on and through the roof of the structure, climbing to the peak on Newry's on-loan ladder truck. Power was cut to the building, and water was brought to the scene in tanker trucks. It was the fourth fire call to the business in the past three years, according to fire officials.

HOMECOMING SOCCER THANKS

To the Editor:

Telstar homecoming events were a success on Saturday. There was a large turnout for all of the games.

The cross-country team had their meet at 11 a.m., followed by the soccer and field hockey games at 12, and then the first annual homecoming alumni classic soccer game at 3:30 p.m. There was a large crowd out supporting all of the teams.

The soccer teams sold concessions throughout the day raising a total of over $500 for their program.

The soccer team would like to thank all alumni who participated and supported the team. Also, thank you to all parents and family members who helped sell and contributed goodies to the concession stand.

Special thanks go out to Lyon's Orchards, who donated a large amount of apples to the team to help raise money.

Also, special thanks to Robin Gundersen, for putting in extra work toward the event to help pull it off. And to Tim Kavanaugh and David Tripp for producing such quality T-shirts for the event.

And lastly, thanks to the alumni, parents, staff, and friends of Telstar soccer who participated in the first annual Homecoming Alumni Soccer Classic: Amos Kimball, Chuck Haines, Dan Zinchuk, Kurt Wight, Jim Thornton, Scott Haines, Josh Young, Steve Estes, Bruce Korhonen, Matt Mills, Glen Conrad, Charlie Raymond, Tim Remington, Greg Luetje, Jim Merrill, Mark Kenney, Kevin Zinchuk, Ross Parker, Will Caswell, Rick Whitney, John Kimball, August Reiss and Dirk McKnight.

Twenty-three members in all showed up and played.

It was a great time, and our soccer teams appreciate all of the support.

SMILE FUND YARD SALE

To the Editor:

In the Aug. 29 edition of the New Yorker magazine, Malcolm Gladwell examines the realities of healthcare in America and cites a study conducted by two Harvard researchers, in which people without health insurance were interviewed and asked what their first priority would be if given the opportunity for universal coverage. For the overwhelming majority, the immediate response was, "my teeth." Those struggling to get ahead in the job market face added challenges when they have broken, decayed or in many cases no teeth. The researchers suggest that bad teeth have come to be seen as a marker of low educational achievement and poor parenting, when in reality routine dental checkups are a luxury for people without health insurance who are paying for medical care out of pocket.

The Smile Fund Fair on Oct. 15 is similar to an inside "Yard Sale" with a added coffee shop and bake sale. Contribution of items for the fair (no clothes please), may be dropped off at the church Friday afternoon, Oct. 14. Cash donations are welcome, and checks may be made out to "The Smile Fund" and sent to the West Parish Congregational Church, PO Box 23, Bethel, ME 04217.

TMS DECORATING THANKS

To the Editor:

The TMS Volunteer Committee wishes to thank the following businesses for their generous donations: Ruel Swain Farms, Mountain Greenery, Pooh Corner Farms, Designs, and Western Maine Supply. The flowers, cornstalks, pumpkins, ribbons and bows were used to decorate the entrances and other areas at Telstar. The decorations have had a wonderful uplifting effect on students, staff and community members.

We plan to continue these theme-decorating efforts throughout the school year. The Mahosuc Kids Program and volunteers are painting murals designed by students. These murals will be painted on designated walls throughout the school. The school's Code of Conduct will also be put up at various locations throughout the school as well. Anyone who may be interested in volunteering their time or materials and supplies to continue our efforts in increasing school spirit through beautification of our school will be greatly appreciated.

A special thank you to Donna Howard and both of our families for spending a Saturday afternoon doing this project.

Please feel free to contact me at 875-3283 or e-mail at blazen92126@yahoo.com for additional information concerning our efforts and how you can also help to make a difference.

Bethel Pathway.

They include: pedestrian uses, wheelchairs, strollers, bicycling, cross-country skiing, rollerblading, rollerskiing, and (Nov. 15 to April 30 only) the operation of snowmobiles and snowmobile grooming equipment.

At their meeting Monday, the selectmen noted that skateboarding was not on the list.

"We'll get called on that," predicted Selectman Don Bennett.

But the omission was an oversight, according to Town Manager Scott Cole, so skateboarding was added to the approved list that will be presented at the Oct. 17 hearing.

ATVs and horses are not on the approved list.

Motorized vehicles are generally prohibited from facilities built with federal enhancement funds, Cole said.

Snowmobiles, the obvious exception, may be allowed, he said, because federal law "gives local jurisdictions the option to not plow/sand the pathway and new bridge, thus rendering the assets unusable for pedestrians.

(Motorized wheelchairs are also exempted, under the Americans with Disabilities Act, town officials believe.)

In regard to horses, Cole said, the selectmen have opted to start off with a "minimalist" approach to allowed uses.

But, he said, "if someone wants [horses] to be researched, I would."

The selectmen said they would be open to future discussion about other possible uses, but they felt the current ordinance draft was a good platform to start with.

"You could specify things to death," said Dennis Doyon, "but where do you stop?"

Town to take ownership

The new bridge was built by MDOT, but pursuant to an agreement between the town and the state, signed several years ago, the town will be responsible for ongoing maintenance — for example: mowing, deck repair, and signage. MDOT will remain responsible for periodic safety inspections and major maintenance actions into the future.

Take your umbrella

Those planning to attend Saturday's ribbon-cutting ceremony are asked to park in the lot at Bethel Outdoor Adventures.

Showers, perhaps thunderstorms, linger in the weather forecast for Saturday. In the event rain makes an on-bridge ceremony unfeasible, the event will be held in a tent at BOA.

Anyone wishing to then cross the bridge might want take along an umbrella, advises Robin Zinchuk, executive director of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce, which is organizing the event.

Paris Hill Pewter was invaluable with the details of Paris Hill. The Bethel and Norway Historical societies gave me a lot of information about historical sites. Randy Bennett of Bethel Historical Society spotted a lot of errors," said Seger.

"Historical information was also contributed by historians Peter Lenz, Ben Conant and David Sanderson. Mark Hews of Threshold to Maine gave me information about farms," Seger said, "and Anne Campbell of Norway Downtown Revitalization helped me choose buildings for the walking tour."

The map's outer cover displays a vista of Evans Notch.

"Our magnificent scenery has long been a magnet for creative people and cultural entrepreneurs. That's why we have so much history here," Seger said.

In addition to all the in-kind support, a prototype of the map was produced, in part, with funding from the North East State Foresters Association.

Printing costs for the first edition were mostly covered by the Maine Arts Commission with help from the greater Bethel Chamber of Commerce, Denmark Arts Center and Mahosuc Realty.

Copies of the map will be distributed throughout western Maine through chambers, retailers, cultural retailers and other outlets.

"WOF will also exhibit and distribute maps at the Oxford Showcase this year," said Seger, and attendees are invited to stop at the WOF table and pick one up.

Maps are also available at tourism outlets in Fryeburg, Kittery and Yarmouth.

Pit owner rescued after bank collapse

BETHEL — Richard Tibbetts, owner of R.A. Tibbetts Co. of Wilton, was rescued from his bucket loader Wednesday morning after a gravel bank in the Bethel pit where he was working collapsed on the machine, trapping him under sand. Rescuers first dug the sand away from the cab, then placed plywood and rescue backboards against the windshield to prevent more sand from falling in on Tibbetts. Some sand continued to slide down on the loader during the rescue. Tibbetts was pulled from the cab and checked out by Tri-Town Rescue. He suffered only cuts from the broken windshield, according to Bethel Police Chief Alan Carr. Tibbetts is also the owner of the gravel pit, located on Route 232. Also helping at the scene were Bethel Rescue and the Bethel Fire Department, as well as the Woodstock, Paris and Rumford Fire departments. First on the scene was State Trooper Dan Hansen. Game wardens Steve Allarie and Norm Lewis also assisted.

Intersection work awarded

BETHEL — A contract to make improvements at the Route 2/Parkway intersection has been awarded to Pratt & Sons, Inc., of Mechanic Falls, according to a Maine Department of Transportation press release. The company's bid was $142,281. The work this fall will include removing visual obstructions and installing a flashing beacon. The project, expected to start late this month and finish by the end of the year, was prompted by concerns about safety at the intersection, where visibility has been a problem. Additional work, which will include installing curbing and a traffic island, will wait until next year, according to Jim Mansir of MDOT.

Special Town Meeting items set

WOODSTOCK — Selectmen Tuesday voted on a warrant for a special Town Meeting, to be held Oct. 18. Articles will include taking $9,000 from surplus for unanticipated fuel costs, and $8,500 for unanticipated maintenance costs for the town's 1994 plow trucks. A third article addresses whether to accept as a gift from Ellsworth and Joyce Hathaway a lot of land abutting the South Woodstock Cemetery, and to reimburse the Hathaway's $352 for survey and legal fees.

Bethel Rescue receives grant

BETHEL — Bethel Rescue has received a grant of $41,325 from the 2005 Assistance to Firefighters Grant Program, administered by the U.S. Dept. of Homeland Security. Bethel Rescue will use the funds for a generator for the station and for individual extrication gear. The gear, now required by OSHA, is composed of a jacket, pants, boots, gloves and helmet, according to Cheryl Bennett, Bethel Rescue director. The grant will provide for the purchase of 25 sets of the gear. Currently, BR has seven or eight partial sets, made up of jackets and pants only, she said. BR must contribute 5 percent of the purchase cost from its budget.

Tri-Town board changes proposed

WEST PARIS — Tri-Town Rescue has proposed a change in its bylaws to improve communication with its member towns and reflect current practices, according to Jane Chandler, coordinator. The changes would include altering the Board of Directors to include one representative from each member town (Woodstock, Greenwood, West Paris and Sumner). Currently, officers of each branch of the rescue service are board members. With a member from each town the board hopes that issues can be relayed to selectmen in a timely fashion, Chandler said. Other proposed changes include giving the positions four-year terms (currently there is no time limit) and notifying the media of board meetings, which are open to the public. Tri-Town's membership will discuss the possible changes at a meeting on Oct. 13 at 6:30 p.m. at the station.

Planners draft ordinance

ANDOVER — Three Planning Board members Saturday created Andover's first site plan review ordinance, then voted to send it to their AVCOG consultant. The meeting was put together quickly as the result of a current proposal before the board for a nine-lot subdivision on 5,000 acres. Andover has only subdivision, road and shoreland zoning ordinances to regulate land use. The planners, in response to comments at a public hearing, tried to create a site plan review more restrictive than models they used from Bethel and Norway. In nearby Upton, town officials are also considering preparing a site plan review ordinance, to help the town cope with possible future development plans.

Wife-carrying Saturday

NEWRY — The sixth annual North American Wife Carrying Championships will take place Saturday at noon at Sunday River Ski Resort. Couples must make their way through a 278-yard obstacle course with one partner carrying the other. The winners will go to Finland to the World Wife Carrying Championships. Registration Saturday is from 10 to 11:30 a.m., at a cost of $35 per team. For more information go to www.sundayriver.com.

Scores

except math from the previous year's class.

THS, CPS, WES
Telstar High School 11th-graders scored slightly (no more than four points) below the state average in reading, math and science/technology. They equaled the state in writing.

The scores in reading, math and science/technology were down slightly from the previous year, while writing was up slightly.

Crescent Park fourth-graders were slightly (no more than four points) below the state in writing, reading and science/technology. They were six points below in math.

All categories dropped from the previous year.

At the Woodstock Elementary School, fourth-graders scored slightly below the state average in writing, reading and math. They were slightly above in science/technology.

Scores were down slightly from the previous year in all categories except science/technology, which were up. With small schools, scores tend to fluctuate more from year to year than they do in larger schools.

Complete MEA results may be seen at <http://www.maine.gov/education/mea/edmea.htm>.

AYP

As for the Adequate Yearly Progress ratings — the standard used under the No Child Left Behind Act — all SAD44 schools except THS made the grade, Superintendent Dave Murphy said.

Telstar High School did not achieve AYP status because it came up one student short in a "students with disabilities" test category, Murphy said.

The designation puts the school on a "monitoring" list for this year, with no specific actions yet required.

As for TMS, it was the first time in three years that the middle school achieved AYP.

In results reported last year, the school had a similar situation as the high school this year, with a "students with disabilities" group falling short.

In addition, TMS did not reach the minimum percentage of students required to take the test — 95 percent.

As a result, the district was required to set up a two-year school improvement plan for TMS and allocate funds toward it.

SATs

"We're looking at what are the ways we can expect to get 95 percent of the students transported," Superintendent Dave Murphy told the School Board last week.

THS test site?

Telstar Principal Shawn Lambert is also petitioning the College Board to make Tel-star an official testing site.

"The state assures us they will increase the number of testing sites," he said, but he said he wanted to take the initiative to ensure students can take the test as close to home as possible.

Makeup tests can be arranged for students who miss the date.

The state will pay for students to take the test the first time.

Some college-bound students elect to take it more than once to improve their scores.

Murphy said he believes the state's plan may change before April.

grow it out for some little girl who feels bad."

Three and a half years later, it was time to shed her locks. "I decided to do it this month because it's Breast Cancer Awareness Month," Stevens said.

So on Monday she showed up at "You've Got the Look" in Bethel to see Roberts.

"My husband thinks I'm doing errands," Stevens said. "I wanted to surprise him."

Roberts washed her hair and pulled it back in a pony tail. "Ohhh," said Stevens as the cut was made. "It was a bit traumatic," she admitted afterward.

But Stevens was very happy with the new short look Roberts gave her. "I can't believe how much free time I'm going to have, not having to work with that long hair," she joked.

After she got home, she said, "I had a delayed reaction. After a while I saw myself in the mirror, and realized I had taken another positive step in my cancer journey. I looked like myself before chemo, and it was a surprise to see the old me looking back."

And, she said, "I have a real good feeling about the donation to Wigs for Kids, it was great to achieve that goal."

Do regular checks

Stevens now looks forward to 2006, which she hopes will put her at the five-year mark of being cancer-free.

She hopes other women will have regular mammograms and perform regular self-exams to increase the odds that, like her, they can be cured of any cancer that may be found.

And for anyone interested in donating their locks to Wigs for Kids, Roberts recommends visiting www.wigsforkids.org

Bethel

by Mary Keniston
The village of Bethel was filled with returning Gould Academy Alumni this past weekend.

The Class of 1935 had one special return with Frances Morrill Clark of York leading the Parade of Classes to Ordway Hall for luncheon.

Alumni and spouses of the Gould Academy Class of 1945 (60 years!) enjoyed a spectacular weekend of camaraderie, family updating, reminiscing about early life as a Gould student, delicious food, tours of the school, a bus tour around the area, and much more. Pat Moore was thanked repeatedly for her work and planning for the reunion. Attending the reunion dinner held at The Sudbury Saturday evening were: Pat and Bill Moore, Priscilla Wiley, Pam Atkins and granddaughter, Jane and Kermit Allen, Mary Lou and Hi Berry, Phyllis and Bob Chapman, Dorothy York, Adeline Clough, Cathy and Robert Foster, Mary Nutter and Ed Dorion, Dorothy Bargar and daughter Diana Stewart, Mary and Dick Woodcock, Polly and Bob Davis, Betty and Frank Dugas, Helen and Milton Lauenstein. After dinner, many of the group continued the evening with the Berlys at Lone Pine.

Bob and Ginny Keniston are at Fryeburg Fair this week for their annual show at the Forestry Building with their display of his woodturnings for sale. If you attend the fair, be sure to look for them. Also, Eric Paul is at the fair, with his building full of special items, T-Shirts, etc. Recent visitors with Earlon

"Lefty" and Mary Rice Keniston were Muriel Kimball and Carly Witter of South Paris.

Llona Keniston and Carl Meaux arrived last Thursday for 10 days visit with her Dad and Mary and to attend her 45th Gould Reunion for the Class of 1960. Judy Payson Schwab and husband, Mo, from Elliot and Rockville, Md., called at the Kenistons to join Llona for the same reunion.

Douglas and Sandra Rice from Guilford, Conn., were at The Chalet at Sunday River for his 45th reunion, and they hosted his class for their dinner party and gathering on Saturday evening. John Todd and Donald Christie were the class agents for their class and planned the events for the weekend.

Judy Lapham Halle and a friend of Lisbon Falls were callers on Sunday at the Keniston home.

Phyllis Morrill Bancroft of South Paris, formerly of Albany, is a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital.

Oxford Hills Bridge Club met last Friday at Fare Share Commons, Main Street, Norway where a 4-1/2 table Howell movement was enjoyed. Finishing first in flight A were Anna Cormier and Woody Mercier, with Dick Allen and Pete Cummings second. Third were Nancy Farmer and Marta Clements. Finishing first in flight B were Barbara and Paul Beegel with Eleanor Griffin and Bailey Geeslin second.

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte
It was a busy fall weekend in Upton and a beautiful one weatherwise. The trees are beginning to show some color but it is far from peak. Next week we will be aware of the perennial "Leaf Peepers." Dixville Notch is in high color and a pleasure to drive through on the way to Colebrook.

Our little moose is still around the grass island and the cove. Gene and Sandy Wixom had a visit from him last Friday. He or she (the moose) is getting plenty to eat because it appears to be well nourished. He has not attempted to get into Evelyn Kenney's barn again. We hope he will be away from here come November when deer season opens. He isn't much bigger than a medium-sized deer.

Buster Williamson has received many cards and visitors, which he enjoys. He has so many friends and I guess it's because he is a friend to so many people.

Jennifer Casey has returned from Virginia where she attended a Wildlife meeting.

Last Saturday, the Community Yard Sale was held with a steady stream of good customers. A variety of articles were for sale. There were tools, sleds, toboggans, TV sets that worked, and various other items for sale. Everyone seemed to be having a good time. Customers sent to us from the Errol Yard Sale and other towns purchased many things that of course they could not live without. The remaining goods will be transported to the free store in Rumford.

The highlight of the weekend was a flotilla of pontoon boats heading up lake. It was sort of goodbye to summer boating trips. A picnic lunch and other refreshments were served. Five pontoon boats were lashed together up beyond Metallic (Dutton's Island). The Red Sox game miraculously came in over the radio. When they won the game everyone was pleased except Sue Nelson, a diehard Yankee fan. Loyal she is and loyal you should be. Two dogs were aboard to protect us from marauding loons and seagulls.

Jim Rector has returned from an exciting trip to Colorado. He joined his son, Jerry, for a long hike in the Rocky Mountains. They scaled Sangre de Christo, which is 14,000 feet above sea level at the tower. They signed in after climbing for over five hours. Descent took three hours. It was a cold and windy place. Jim has climbed Mount Katahdin several times. He states as tough as it is, Sangre de Christo was much more of a challenge.

Dianne Williamson spent Sunday afternoon kayaking on the lake. She didn't fall in this time as she has in the past. The water temperature is in the low sixties, which would have been a chill and a thrill.

Loons were up lake in fair numbers. The black and white plumage was clearly visible as they dived and fished. Some loons were gray in color. Our local expert told me that they were immature loons. They have a gray body with a white throat and underparts. A similar loon, not native to this area, is the red-throated loon. It is the smallest of the loons that may visit the lake when flying south. Mature loons may also be gray in color as winter approaches and the flight to the coast is in progress. There is a wealth of information in your "Bird Book." Pretty soon the cry of the loon will be gone for five and a half months. We will miss them.

The "Bird of the Week" is the common loon. By the way, the hummingbirds left around Sept. 30. That has been the longest visit to Upton in our time. Bon Voyage little guy, you gave us a lot of pleasure.

West Bethel

by Lorrie Hoeh
Turkeys, turkeys everywhere, and not a one is willing to jump in front of my car and become part of our dinner. I've seen flocks on the Flat Road and on Grover Hill Road, as well as a few other places. These birds have certainly become well established in western Maine.

Last Friday, Mike and I attended Grandparents' Day at Crescent Park School. Our youngest grandson, Andrew Siegel, is a student in Heidi Steele's class. The classroom and bulletin boards were attractively decorated with students' work and seasonal things. Andrew interviewed us and wrote down our answers; together we created a family tree; then we played a math dice game before it was time to leave. Mrs. Steele recorded each visit by photographing the children with their "special friends." My red carnation sits on the kitchen windowsill as a reminder of this very nice Bethel tradition.

The Fryeburg Fair started on Sunday, and I was there in the Farm Museum demonstrating handspinning, as I have done for several years. My days are Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, with the alternate days covered by my friend, Anne Gass, of Paris, Maine. The weather was warm and sunny, and the crowds reflected that. If you come to the fair today or Saturday, do stop in upstairs at the Museum and say hello.

In the hour before my duties began, I went to the Agricultural Exhibition Hall to check out the displays of the Pleasant Valley Grange. Their domestic exhibit earned them a fifth place, and the agricultural exhibit with some spectacular looking vegetables, canned goods, and preserves, garnered a third place. Both displays were very attractive and reflective of a lot of hard work on the part of many.

Jane Hosterman said that a group of Grangers spent much of last Thursday at Fryeburg, setting up the displays and finishing the domestic one. She reports that Pauline and John Applin returned on Friday to complete the agricultural category, as well as contributing a sizeable portion of the goods. It seems to me that congratulations are in order to everyone who worked so diligently over the past year, especially in recent weeks, to prepare for the fair.

I stopped at the corner store Sunday morning before leaving for Fryeburg, to get some coffee and sustenance in the form of a yummy cinnamon bun to munch on during the drive down. I noted that the store is now an official game check-in station. Also, in case you haven't noticed, Fred and Jen now are selling lottery tickets. Are you feeling lucky? Maybe the newness of the business will add a filip of good fortune.

In spite of the unseasonal warmth and lack of killing frost, autumn is progressing. The low areas are quite colorful with swamp maples in their crimson glory. The other morning I spotted some winterberries, a deciduous form of holly (Ilex verticillata), along the "Swamp Road." Driving home from the fair on Sunday evening, I was reminded of how lucky we are to live in a place where we can watch the seasons change. How dull it would be not to experience the bracing cold of winter, the freshness of spring green, the warmth and bounty of summer, and the splendor of fall.

The Greenwood Fire Department Auxiliary met Monday evening with Maggie Ring, Denise Swan, Lorraine Larson, Missy Wakefield, and Veronica Penley present. It was decided to buy a plaque and have the names of the auxiliary members who have died inscribed on it. It was decided to have a table at the craft fair the Woodstock school will be having on Oct. 29. Another meeting will be held in October to bring items and ideas for it. The Western Maine Firemen's supper netted $148.90, which will be put in the General Fund.

The 4th annual Craft Fair for the Woodstock Elementary

School will be held Saturday, Oct. 29, at the school. There will be crafts, silent auction, 50/50 raffle, breakfast, lunch, and baked goods. Table rental will be $10 along with a small auction donation for the silent auction. For more information, please call Missy Wakefield at 665-2211 or e-mail Missy88.2005@yahoo.com. All funds raised will benefit the children of Woodstock Elementary School.

Hanover

Sympathy is extended to Walter Sylvester and family upon the death of Myrtle Sylvester, Walter's wife. Her family and the community will miss her.

Judy and Jim Ray from Austin, Texas have returned to the Triple J. at Howard Pond.

During the weekend of Sept. 23, local members of the Knights of Pythias attended the International Pythian Jubilee at Calais, Maine and St. Stephen, New Brunswick. The events began Thursday at a lodge meeting in Eastport and continued through Saturday. Those attending from this area were Danny and Janice Bennett, Freeman Farrington, and Donna and Clem Worcester.

On Sunday, Oct. 2, local Pythians attended a pig roast put on by the members of Fort George Lodge in Brunswick. The events were at White's Beech on Durham Road in Brunswick. Recently, Fort George Lodge sold their large building in downtown Brunswick, and the purpose of the event was to distribute funds as gifts to other K.P. lodges within Maine. Dignitaries came from as far away as South Carolina and New Brunswick. Local Pythians attending were Craig Turner, Donna and Clem Worcester, Freeman Farrington, Orville Meisner, Clayton Davis and Janice and Danny Bennett. Dan's Barbecue catered the event.

The River Valley Expo at Mountain Valley High School was Sept. 30 and Oct. 1. Again this year the town of Hanover had a booth to showcase the town's businesses, both present day and from days gone by as well as Hanover's recreation and natural beauty. The displays were wonderfully designed and folks working on the booth included Brenda Gross, Kelly Crockett, David Worcester, Jeff Watts, Gretchen Anderson, Donna Worcester and Clem Worcester. The Maine Mouse-ah, Just a Hobby Antiques, The Lyon's Den, Jeff Davis Logging and Equipment, and View Point Agency all supplied display materials as did Gardner Roberts Memorial Library. Stony Brook Recreation also had a booth that was just next to the Hanover booth. We Party Supplies was also next to the Hanover booth and the Hanover booth workers expressed appreciation to them for assisting our town's booth and display.

Gilead

I know that fall is definitely here even though some days it doesn't look or feel like it. The days are not as cool and crisp as they should be and there is very little color on the trees. I know because the "Leaf Peepers" are on the move. Traffic has been quite steady the past few days. Every once in a while a big, bright-colored tour bus will go by. Of all the ones I have seen, yellow seems to be the favorite color of most.

Another sign of fall is the increased number of Gilead residents looking for the town clerk (that's me!) to purchase their hunting licenses. First day of hunting season for residents is Oct. 29. Most of them realize that since I work all week at school, Friday night is a good time to call me and make an appointment on Saturday to pick up their license.

We were sorry to hear that Beverley Corriveau's mother, Myrtle Sylvester, passed away on Sept. 25. Our thoughts and prayers go out to Bev and all her family.

Maxine Corriveau's husband, Jack, stopped by the house with a thank-you card for the Gilead Historical Society. There were several people who made donations at the GHS Potluck Supper in appreciation for all the many years that Maxine has served the town as a ballot clerk and a member of the school board.

Hugh and I had a busy week. Hugh's brother and wife, Bill and Barbara Lord of Phoenix, Ariz., visited. Bill was here to attend his 50th class reunion at Gould Academy. On Sunday, the rest of the company arrived: Hugh's other brothers and wives, Vernon and Arlene Fraser of Prince William, New Brunswick, and Donald and Gloria Fraser of Augusta. Our son, Tim, stopped by with his children, William, Annie and Sidney. It was great to get together and visit with everyone.

I have been so busy lately that I haven't really had a chance to catch up with my brother, Steve McLain. When I spoke to him a few days ago, he told me that he was surprised how long his garden had lasted this year. Usually by now, there has been a frost, but not yet. He was planning on digging up the potatoes that he had planted this year.

Planning Board
Just a reminder that there is a Planning Board meeting on Oct. 6 at the Town Hall at 7 p.m.

Gilead Historical Society
There were several members who paid their 2006 annual dues at the Annual Meeting and many more have arrived by mail. I have to be able to get their membership cards in the mail this week.

Our next event is the Cemetery Tour on Oct. 29. Everyone will meet at 1 p.m. at the Town Hall. We did not set a rain date, so in case of rain bring your umbrella. If it is raining too hard, we can still meet in the hall with an alternative program. We should also remember that this is a Saturday and is during hunting season. It might be a good idea to come prepared with something orange to wear. Maybe a bright colored umbrella!

Mason

One day last week I mowed the weeds in the garden to make it easier to do the fall tilling. At one point I got off the tractor to move some of the buttercup squashes out of the way of my intended route of travel. Suddenly, I noticed a very busy hornet buzzing around my head, and before I could react he stung me — right on the forward-most extremity of my face! You've heard that song, "Some beach." Well, that's what I thought when I turned around and saw a swarm of very angry ground hornets boiling out of a patch of grass I had just mowed over. I rapidly gave them "their space," mounted the tractor and drove on. It took quite some time for the redness, swelling and pain to slowly recede from the very tip end of my nose.

I spent parts of several days in niece Elsie Aylward's attic, adding another six inches of fiberglass insulation and constructing a walkway to allow her to walk the entire length of her attic without either stepping through the ceiling tiles to the rooms below or "squashing down" some of the insulation there. On Saturday morning, as Elsie and son, Josh, were standing and talking on the back porch, their dog, Ginger, started barking and trotting toward the field across the brook. As their gaze followed the direction of Ginger's travel, they saw a huge bull moose just trotting across the back field.

Elsie also told me she was expecting a furniture van to arrive with her new living room sofa sometime Saturday morning. Later, as I was sawing boards on the tailgate of my pickup in her driveway, I noted a Top Furniture van pull into the driveway. Not paying much attention to the furniture van, I kept sawing. Then I noticed that instead of driving the van to the front door of the house, the van reversed direction and drove back down the road along Pleasant River in the direction from which they had just arrived. Elsie phoned the store to tell them what had just happened. Later, she told me that the van came back with the sofa, but it was the wrong one, not the one which she had ordered; so now, she is still without a sofa in the living room. Some days it just doesn't pay to get out of bed.

The previous weekend, Elsie and daughter, Dianne, flew to Washington, D.C., to meet her other two daughters there, do some sightseeing, visit Crystal's new home and to spend some quality time together. They arrived back home the following Monday evening, tired but glad of a nice weekend together.

Sunday, Mark and I drove out to Sally's Mountain

Greenery on Route 2. She has lots of beautiful mum plants in various colors and hues. She also has lots of pumpkins, decorative kale plants, cornstalks and lots of items to enhance your premises inside and out. Mountain Greenery plans to be open until mid-October.

Also on Sunday, a bear-tracking dog wearing a tracking device was on the Branch Road as I was heading for Bethel. I guess his owner wasn't able to take the dog home on Saturday.

trails are part of the statewide Interconnecting Trail System (ITS) 82 which goes as far as the New Hampshire border by way of Grafton Notch close to Success Pond in New Hampshire. Please call Leon Dunn (824-3335) or Ed Powers (824-3589) regarding time and places. These are important weekends, as winter riding depends on cleared trails in order for the groomers to do their work once snow has covered the trails.

Tuesday afternoon, another bear-tracking dog appeared, this time on the deck, ate some cat food and drank their water. He was pretty friendly, so I found out from the nametag he wore that his owners live in Byron and had a telephone number to call, which I did. The dog's name is Buddy, I was told, upon calling the wife and she said he is very docile. That is true, as he left, came back up the driveway, and this time I was able to secure him at the foot of the stairs. Of course, I gave him more cat food and water. Around 7:30 p.m. a man drove up the drive by using the tracking system and retrieved Buddy. I thought it was the owner, but it was a man from Rhode Island who was working the dogs with the owner. Apparently, there are people from out of state who pay to go bear hunting using this kind of system. I wish Buddy well and certainly enjoyed talking with his owner over the telephone.

Friday, I met Danny Tieger from New York. He summers in Rangeley. We had lunch at Pat's Pizza in Bethel and then drove out to the wood products company that sells wood ends that lots of people use for kindling, which is what Danny was looking for. Though he lives in New York, he spends summers in Rangeley. I met him as a teenager when I used to spend time at Dr. Swallow's camp, which was next to Danny's. Somehow he met up with my sister, Nancy, who lived in New York for years; thus whenever my sister is here during the fall, we drive up to Errol and Danny drives over from Rangeley, and we dine together. I guess, from what Danny told me, it is difficult to find kindling in that area.

Lots of us experienced a power outage on Thursday evening. It was out about 4 1/2 hours here, but Dan told me it went out around noon in Oquossoc and didn't come back on till Friday morning around 8:30 a.m.

Andover

by Melinda Averill

The Andover Elementary School will be having its annual Grandparents' Day on Friday, Oct. 14, from 9 to 11 a.m. This is always a nice time always enjoyed by everyone. Mark your calendars.

The Andover Historical Society met on Tuesday, Sept. 26, to discuss the Open House on Sept. 30. The theme was Old Toys and Vintage Clothing. Mrs. Merryman has resigned as secretary (woe is us!). We will miss her quiet and gentle efficiency, but look forward to seeing her at future meetings. This is a great organization and would benefit greatly with more members. "Atta-girl" to Barbara Hayden for preserving the society in two new plush albums — one of all the carnival queens by year and the other of the Pineland Ski Club activities — great job.

A group of people from Andover, Mass., came to visit the society and had a good time watching a video of Margaret Smith and Edna White talking "old days" and also looking at our many displays. An enjoyable day by all. (submitted by Dianne C.)

Darcy Morse, former Andover resident, is working in Winterpark, Colo., at In-trawest Corporation. At a recent company golf tournament she won suite seats for a Colorado Rockies game (courtesy of owner Bob Coors).

Darcy, who is the daughter of Stan and Donna Morse of Andover, got her master's at Denver University in 2004 in science, marketing advertising and communications.

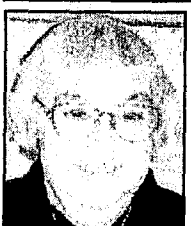

Monday was the start of walk-to-school week. Andover school kids met at the Fire Station with their teachers and all walked to school together.

There will be a Haunted Halloween Walk on Saturday evening, Oct. 29 for all area kids and adults, actually anyone who isn't afraid to be scared. It will start at Andover Automotive, and admission will be $1. There are posters with all the details around town and in the schools, both the elementary and middle school.

Peggy and Joe Madigan returned home on Tuesday after spending five days in Indiana. While there they attended a wedding reception for month-long newlyweds (their daughter and son-in-law, Bryan, and Suzann). The girls in the wedding party surprised Suzann by wearing Maine t-shirts that they had bought at Suzann's grandparents' store, while here in August for the wedding.

Have a nice weekend.

West Paris

by Joyce Lamb

Cool nights are here giving us a taste of what to expect soon.

At the West Paris Universalist Church on Oct. 9 Nancy Willard will speak on "Passages." The service is at 9 a.m. followed by a social, coffee hour. All are welcome.

Ann Goulding and Georgia Thayer were dinner guests of Lee Dean on Wednesday. Ann took her two grandmothers for a ride to Lewiston, then through Buckfield, over Paris Hill. They drove out Thayer Road to view the scenery and colored leaves near Georgia's old farmhouse. The trip was pleasant for them both.

I visited Dorothy Christie in Gray on Thursday and had lunch with her. The weather was very changeable. The sun did come out a few times between the rain showers. On the way home the wind blew so hard in the driving rain that I had to get off the road and wait about ten minutes. I did have a pleasant visit, but the rain storm was the worst I had ever been out in. A large pine tree uprooted at Rustfield Village just before I went by.

Murad Sayen will be the guest speaker at Whitman Memorial Library in Bryant Pond on Thursday, Oct. 13, at 10 a.m. Mr. Sayen will be sharing his insights on art, photography, and rural Maine. The library has his beautiful book on Maine Photography, "Maine the Home Place." There is no charge and all are welcome.

The Red Sox have monopolized the TV this week. Even I have stayed up late to watch and I am not a sports fan. Next week should be even more exciting.

Buffy is about back to normal for his coat is growing fast. He still prefers to be in the sun and to cuddle at night. So he must be feeling the cold more. Is it old age or is he in need of a thicker fur coat?

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson

Hi readers. How are you all this week? Good, I hope. Lois Niemi has been in the New England Rehab. Hospital in Portland and expects to come home this week. That is good news.

Last weekend, Brenda Files, Mary and Dean Saunders, Betty Morrison and Everett Morison went camping out at Ossipee, N.H. at Mother's Creation Campgrounds. They had a good time but it was very cold, they said. They enjoyed the Indian Powwow there.

On Sept. 16, the five went to the Oxford Fair and while there watched the new famous real Bull Riding program. Brenda said it was very exciting and interesting. She fed a bull some hay and even patted him on the head. This was a first for her.

Also, last week Brenda had a large buzzard hawk sitting on her porch railing. Two years ago she had a pheasant woodcock there and this year she has had red breasted and white and brown nuthatches, and now she says the juncos have come. She has a tame chipmunk she calls "Chip-pie." He eats peanuts out of her hand.

Loretta Andrews is still at the Maine Medical Center in Portland. She says hi to everyone, and I am sure she would appreciate cards. She is in Room 308.

On Wednesday, Sept. 28, the daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War Tent 19 met at the K. of P. Hall here in Stoneham for their regular meeting. Tent President Gail Butterfield opened the meeting at 7:30 p.m. with seven members present. It was good to get back to the regular monthly schedule.

Marilyn Jones read an article on "The Guard," which was interesting.

National D.U.V. President Lesley Dean gave a report about her travels and business of being the national president at the Convention in Clear Lake, Iowa. Joyce Gouin accompanied her, also Beth Jones and Sally Sawyer, all from the Maine department.

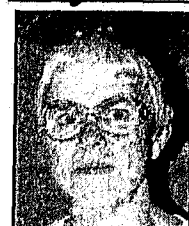

It was noted that the Daughters will again be selling cookies and bars and hot coffee and cocoa the Saturday after Thanksgiving from 10 a.m. to around 2 p.m. This is one of their yearly fundraisers. It will take place in front of the L.F. Pike Co. on Main Street, Norway and will be during the annual parade there, and it is fun to take part in this worthy cause.

On Monday, Oct. 10, the D.U.V. is invited to meet with the Bryant Pond Tent for Inspection Night beginning with supper at 6 p.m.

Meeting adjourned and light refreshments were served. Next meeting will be Oct. 26 at 7:30 p.m. here at Stoneham K. of P. Hall.

Congratulations and best of luck to Jim and Sarah Milclon, who were married this past weekend at the Woodstock Universalist Church. I wish them many years of happiness.

A family birthday get-together was held at our home to celebrate our son's 50th birthday. Those attending were Richard and Andrea, Kellie Wing, Vinny Lima, Jessie Hart, Kyle Komulainen, Sally Wing, Tony Smith and Jordan. We all had a good time teasing Rick about being 50. We had pizza and chocolate cream pie, that Rick had requested, and played several games of ping pong.

Albany

by Sheila Dyke

Greetings and hello from Albany Township. The mountains are gorgeous with dots of reds, yellows and oranges mingled with the green of those trees not yet turned or the evergreens so prevalent in our area. Vernon Street, especially, is looking lovely with its corridor of color.

Church services at the little church on the hill are Sundays starting at 9:30 a.m. Following this Sunday's services is the annual church meeting in the vestry.

The little house being built on Vernon Street is coming along so nicely. It's impressive how quickly they were able to get the house up from foundation to siding. Looks great!

Don't forget that the Albany Improvement Association is holding a Yard Sale at the Town Hall building Saturday, Oct. 8, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. (that's this Saturday). They always have great stuff at their sales, so, don't miss it.

"A Body Story"

One morning local artist and teacher, Arla Patch, woke up to a vision of a woman made out of ferns. This launched a creative journey that has culminated, five years later, in the publication of her first book, "A Body Story." The book is a celebration of the healing that unfolds, she said, "when we come into partnership with our bodies and the wisdom they contain." In addition to the woman made out of ferns, Patch created 18 more images of a woman made out of sky, fire, flowers, water, etc. This book commingles spirituality, healing from trauma, and artistic expression. Patch's friend from college, S. Epatha Merckson, (who just won the Emmy for Best Actress for her lead in the HBO movie, Lackawanna Blues) wrote the forward to the book. Merckson is also Lt. Van Buren on TV's "Law and Order" and has supported the scholarship fund for Patch's local art program "Explorations" for the past 14 years. An exhibit of the images from the book will be on display at the Fare Share Commons, 433 Main Street, Norway from Oct 6 - 29. An opening and book signing for the public will take place Friday, Oct. 7 from 7 - to 9 p.m. at the Commons. Additional book signings will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. on Oct 8, 15 and 29. The book is also available through her website at www.arla-patch.com.

"There are still plenty of nice, orange pumpkins at Barton's Farm stand, but, they don't usually last very long. There are also a lot of other great veggies, so, why not stop by and grab some nice, fresh, home-grown vegetables? If there's still corn, get some of those, too.

"Best wishes for a happy and safe week. God Bless and Keep.

Maine humorist, "Norbert Twichell" a.k.a. Peter Gammons, will be featured as part of the Bethel Historical Society's activities in conjunction with the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition, "Barn Again! Celebrating and American Icon." With his infectious Maine humor that will keep most audiences chuckling throughout the evening, "Norbert" will appear at Alder River Grange 145 in East Bethel at 1895 Intervale Road following a harvest supper put on by the Grange in cooperation with the Bethel Historical Society. The price of admission to the supper and the humorist will be $10. Those attending only the supper will pay $7 and only the humorist $5. The supper will begin at 5 p.m. and the humorist will follow shortly at 7 p.m. Further information may be obtained by calling the society at 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910.

On Oct. 13 at 7:30 p.m., Historian William H. Bunting will be the featured speaker at a special lecture held as part of Bethel Historical Society's activities in conjunction with the Smithsonian Traveling Exhibition, "Barn Again! Celebrating an American Icon," at Pleasant Valley Grange in West Bethel. Bunting possesses a life-long interest in history, evidenced when he expressed keen disappointment to this mother after his first day at school, when he complained there had been "Nothing about ships. Nothing about how things work. Nothing about olden times."

Bunting balanced his formal education with time at sea, working aboard traditional sailing vessels and fishing boats. His first book was published shortly after he graduated from college. "Portrait of a Port: Boston 1852-1914 (Harvard University Press) was followed by "Steamers, Schooners, Cutters and Sloops" (Houghton Mifflin). A long-term photo collection and research project in Maine resulted in the two-volume, "A Day's Work: A Sampler of Historic Maine Photographs," the first volume appearing in 1997.

With Earle G. Shettleworth, Jr., Bunting co-authored "An Eye for the Coast: The Maritime and Monhegan Island Photographs of Eric Hudson (1998). "Sea Struck," a book about the final decades of American square-rigged sail, was published in 2004. A maritime historian by vocation, he lives in Whitefield, Maine, where he raises Durham cattle and operates an agricultural bulldozing business.

During his presentation,

Bunting will show slides and provide commentary regarding some of his photographs used in his "Day's Work" books relating to work around barns and other farm buildings.

Copies of Bunting's book, "A Day's Work: A Sampler of Historic Maine Photographs" will be available for purchase, and for the author to autograph, following the lecture. The program is free and open to everyone.

From the Whitman Memorial Library

Murad Sayen will be sharing his insights on art, photography and rural Maine at the Whitman Memorial Library, Bryant Pond, on Thursday, Oct. 13, at 10 a.m. The program is free of charge and is open to the public.

Murad lived in Bryant Pond for almost 20 years, and he photographed our area extensively during that time. He also built one-of-a-kind so-called "art knives" in his shop on Cushman Hill Road. He went to Penn State University and graduated with a degree in the philosophy of ethics, but has painted since the age of 6 and has written three books, two of them novels.

His photography book, "Maine, the Home Place," was published in 2003, by University Press of New England, and has been widely acclaimed as a beautiful look at the "other Maine." It is one of the few photo books to feature inland Maine, particularly our area.

SPARTANS FOOTBALL
The Greenwood Spartans youth football teams hosted games with Jay/Livermore Falls Sunday at Telstar. Clockwise, Spartan third/fourth grade Spartan tackler David Pilgrim takes down an opposing runner; runner Austin Ryerson leaves two Jay/LF defenders behind on a long gain from scrimmage; Greenwood quarterback Rebecca Tuttle looks over the Jay/LF defense. Results, page 12.

of the goal. Tim Fifield scored twice with assists by Eva Thornton and Bryce Walker. Saves on the goal were by Andy Whitney (4), Alex Gunderson (6) and Jen Aldrich (2).

Gould 2, Hyde 2; Oct. 1 - Gould JV Soccer played a tough fought match against Hyde on Saturday. In the first half we created countless opportunities to score, but none connected. Unfortunately Hyde was able to get 2 past us. In the 2nd half, GiHo scored from nearly half field with a bullet, and Owen's fancy dribbling got him in range for a shot. We ended the battle 2 to 2.

Gould 1, Hebron 5; Sept. 28 - JV(A) soccer played Hebron last Wednesday. Brady was able to put one away for us off of a fabulous cross. Hebron's offense played hard the first 1/2, scoring 5 goals. But in the second half we got their number and shut them down. Although we lost 5 - 1, the score does not reflect the evenness of the game, or the hustle by Gould for the entire game.

J.V.(B) Soccer

Gould 2, Hyde 2; Oct. 1 - Gould scored early with a terrific shot by Jun Lee. Gould again went on the attack and scored off of a long shot by See Jin Park. However, Hyde came back and scored 2 goals to end the half tied 2-2. The goal tending by Paul Grimm and Ben Koopman was outstanding. Aggressive play by Hyung Shin Lee, Tucker Brown, Sam Priestley and Tim Hsu kept Gould in the game. The second half ended with the score tied at 2 all.

J.V. Girls' Soccer

Gould 3, Hyde 0; Oct. 1 - Goal scorers were Seana Siekman, Lindsey Weil, and Brittany Riley.

Gould 0, CVA 6; Sept. 28 - Gould played at CVA in a tough game. Collen Slattery was amazing in goal and the team worked well together to play against a much stronger opponent.

High School Varsity Field Hockey

Telstar 3, Livermore Falls 0; Oct. 3— Telstar's Kayla Mills, Danna Wilson and Mallory Brown scored goals in a win over Livermore Falls. Stephanie Tripp had two saves in goal and Heather Gionet four. The Rebels outshot Livermore, 18-9.

Gould 1, Gould Alumni 1; Oct. 2— On Sunday, the team rallied to play the Alumni in a fun-filled match up. The young huskies went out strong and scored first and then put one more in just after the buzzer. The second half saw the alumni come out with new energy and rallied for a goal to make the final score 1-1. The Alumni goal came from the youngest member who was helping out the alumni, Doug Gardner, who received a pass from Mrs. Gardner. Thanks to all those who cheered the team on this weekend.

Telstar 3, Mt. Valley 0; Oct. 1— Telstar's Liz Rosenberg started things off with an awesome penalty stroke. Josie Reiss scored, with an assist by Lauren Conroy. Chea Davis scored, with an assist by Kayla Mills. Danna Wilson, Liz Rosenberg and Jillian Kimball took care of the middle of the field, clearing the ball to their teammates. — coach Gail Wight Gould 1, Proctor 0; Oct. 1— The field hockey team had a great weekend of field hockey. Saturday the team played a very competitive Proctor Academy Team and won 1-0. The lone goal was made by Shannon Littlefield, who received a pass from Hillary Hough at mid-field. Shannon then broke away for a one-on-one with the Proctor defense, and stuck it past the goalie. The defense did a great job again, led by captain Jorie and Alec, along with Claire in goal who had her groove on.

Telstar 3, Winthrop 0; Sept. 28— Telstar's Liz Rosenberg and Josie Reiss each had two goals and Chea Davis, Kayla Mills, Whitney Mills and Lindsay Hart each had one in a win over Winthrop. Lauren Conroy, Danna Wilson, Mallory Brown, Chelsea Bean, Davis and Hart each had assists. Goalie Stephanie Tripp had two saves.

Gould 0, Hebron 0; Sept. 28— The score at half was 0-0. Gould's Shannon Littlefield scored the only goal after receiving a pass from Hillary Hough at mid-field, went the distance and dodged the goalie to score the winning goal. Defense did a great job holding Hebron scoreless, Claire Adams had 11 saves for her first shut-out of the season.

High School J.V. Field Hockey

Telstar 2 Mt. Valley 0; Oct. 1— Telstar's Amber Morin scored off the goalkeeper's pads. Abby Hutchins also scored, with an assist from Chelsea Bean. Strong defense from Julia Stambolis, Sarah Field, and Vickie Rice. Strong team effort for the win.

Telstar 2, Lake Region 0; Sept. 30— Telstar's Abby Hutchins scored both goals during the second half, giving the Rebels a win over a team they had tied earlier in the season. Great plays by Josie Reiss and Chelsea Bean. Defense led by Trista Morin and Nikki Hughes.

High School Golf

Telstar 3, Wiscasset 2; Oct. 3 (at Bethel Inn)— Telstar's Brady Chapman, Sean Caddigan and Errol Andrews all won their matches in a win over Wiscasset.

Telstar 5, Boothbay 0; Sept. 30— The Telstar golf team won their quarterfinal match against Boothbay by a 5-0 score. Sean Caddigan (40) and Kyle Maines (40) paced the Rebels as Brady Chapman (41), Errol Andrews (42) and Braydon Crockett-Rice also won their matches. Yesterday, Wednesday, the team was scheduled to travel to Natanis to defend its conference championship and to qualify for the States on Oct. 8 and 15.

TMS J.V. Soccer

TMS 3, Mt. Valley 0; Sept. 30— An impressive offensive performance capped off with two goals by Danny Whitney and one from Tyler Brown. Assists by Jeb Clarke and Casey Thornton. Daniel Vaughn and Josh Bonney connected in goal for the shutout effort. Samantha Southam had the play of the game using her face. Great effort from Austin Jodrey, Devin Vail, Nicena Walker, Jared Rice, Randy Morin, Ben Field, and Dusty Bailey. — coach Mark Kenney.

TMS 5, Carrabec 0; Sept. 27— Telstar goals were scored by Tyler Brown, Devin Vail, Casey Thornton with his first of the season, and two by Danny Whitney. Assists by Devin Vail, Jeb Clarke, and Danny Whitney. "Great goal tending by Josh Bonney and Daniel Vaughn. Super effort from Nicena Walker, Samantha Southam, Austin Jodrey, Andrew Sprague, Michael Corriveau, and Jared Rice," said coach Mark Kenney.

Youth Football

Jay / Livermore 39, Greenwood 0, Oct. 2 (5th and 6th grade)— The J/L Raiders scored on their first two possessions and never looked back against a very flat Greenwood team. Physically, the two teams matched up well, but Greenwood failed to gel cohesively as a unit and as a result, onfield communication and enthusiasm quickly faltered. Despite this, the offensive line did show considerable improvement by giving its quarterbacks more time to operate in the backfield. Also on offense, Danny Whitney added another pass reception and made a nice 37-yard run up the middle. Defensively, Whitney, Drew Wilson, Kevin Annis, Kyle Peterson, and Nick Mills all had multiple tackles. Corey Howard led the team in tackles and Hunter Chase got the crowd cheering with an awesome display of speed and fearlessness, continuously chasing down and tackling guys twice his size.—coach Andy Wheeler

Jay / Livermore 27, Greenwood 14, Oct. 2 (3rd and 4th grade)— After giving up two early scores, Greenwood buckled down and played some brilliant football making this game a lot closer than the score would indicate. Josef Holt returned a kick off 60 yards for one touchdown, and then broke open a 65-yard run for another. With some fine blocking, Holt ran for 3 yards to make the conversion and the Spartans achieved their season high in points. David Pilgrim played a great game on both sides of the ball, blocking exceptionally well on offense, and leading the team with six tackles on defense. Other tackling leaders were Holt (5), Tyler Cherkis (3), and Austin Ryerson (3). More than 250 local fans came to see the two teams play.—coach Andy Wheeler

REAL ESTATE AND YOU

PREPARING YOUR HOUSE FOR THE WALK-THROUGH

The movers have just pulled away from your house, leaving it totally empty - except for years' worth of grime and dust. If you don't have the time or energy to clean your house for the new owners, you should consider paying a professional to do the job.

Before title transfer, your buyers will have a last chance to go through the house to check the appliances, mechanical systems and overall condition to make sure it is consistent with the sales contract. Even though they really want the house, they may be somewhat "nervous" about the sale. It is the little things that can trigger last-minute cold feet, so your best insurance is to make sure that the house looks great, everything is working properly, and all the agreed-upon repairs have been made. Taking special care in preparation for the walk-through will help to promote a more relaxed atmosphere.

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling real estate, contact Cindy Hiebert at Mahoosuc Realty, 207-824-2771

After graduation, she received her nursing degree and worked for over 30 years as an LPN in several area nursing homes and hospitals.

Barbara will be remembered as one who gave of herself and befriended those that were in need of friendship. She was often found listening to her friends and would give guidance to them during difficult times in their lives.

Barbara is survived by her two sons; Jeffrey and his wife Summer of Lisbon and Joel of Rockland; three grandchildren, Whitney, Kadison and Noah; a niece and three nephews and several close friends including Mike Curtis, Atte Hertell and Jess Whitaker.

Funeral services will be held at the Andrews Funeral Home, 64 Andrews Road, South Woodstock on Thursday, Oct. 6, at 11 a.m. with the Rev. Arthur Turner officiating. Burial will be in the Riverside Cemetery, Bethel. For those who wish, donations may be made to Stephens Memorial Hospital, c/o Development Office, attention Tracy Geary, 181 Main Street, Norway, ME 04268 to go toward the Caring Tree.

The family would like to give special thanks to the nursing staff at Stephens Memorial for the excellent care given to Barbara during her stay.

ELLA T. DRUMMOND
Ella T. Drummond, a longtime resident of Auburn, went home to the Lord on Saturday, Oct. 1, 2005. She had been living in New Gloucester with her son and daughter-in-law for the past eight years.

She was born in South Portland, on Jan. 15, 1915, the daughter of Joseph William and Ella Carter Tibbetts. She was a graduate of South Portland High School.

On Aug. 24, 1937, she married J. Omer Drummond (who taught at the Brick Grammar School in Bethel in the early 1940s). They were happily married for 41 years. Mr. Drummond died on Dec. 20, 1978.

She worked as a stenographer, school secretary, and as a librarian in the University of Maine, L.A. system. She was an active member of the Court Street Baptist Church for many years, and faithfully served on a variety of boards and committees.

She enjoyed her family and friends, cooking and camping. In recent years, she was blessed by the wonderful care provided by the staff of Androscoggin Home Care and Hospice.

She is survived by a daughter, Marjorie Brouillette and her husband Richard of Auburn; a son, James and his wife Judy of New Gloucester; five grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by a sister, Mildred Arbo; and brothers, Joseph and Lawrence Tibbetts.
